Very experienced in the creative industry solving problems and producing a wide variety of design work including concepts for advertising, web design, marketing literature, logo design, brand creation, high-end image retouching, illustration, 3D design, plus the creation of digital material and animation. Over the last couple of years have implemented UX practices for UI designs as well as development knowledge using HTML and CSS. The journey begins with ensuring the team completely understand the problem that needs to be solved and the users needs. Then it's on to ideation, wire frames and/or scamping and finally production. Work through complexity to achieve simplicity.
